#LINEUP11

Several players were out this week, one of whom had us scrambling to find a replacement, our goalie! No it was not a leg injury caused from running out to the halfway line a couple of times last weekend but rather a strained shoulder giving Mr. Malone grief. Scans to come this week, hopefully all okay! Nobody initially volunteered but cometh the hour, cometh the 19th man. Yes, Mick O'Connor signed up mid-week and despite burdened with a (non-Covid!!) chest cold, put his hand up to stand behind the sticks for his comeback game. Welcome back mate!!

We had 13 players available for this clash against competition newcomers, Doyalson-Wyee. All we knew were they were last round winners and featured the familiar face of "Dennis". The former talisman of Woongarrah, Toukley - and who knows how many other clubs - seems to compiling a jersey collection that could rival that of Shane, a self-declared "clubs slut". So yes, this could be a challenge and we'd have to be on our toes, not just against potentially quality opposition but literally to not sink into the quagmire surface that is Alan Davidson Oval at the moment.

There were some early chances of destroying Doyalson's clean sheet including: an Andy corner kick that curled into the path of Boz and Nige for an open header, but they got in each other's way; a high shot from Smithy; a low range one from Geoff (busy on the right edge); and a few from Neale and McGarvey to give the goalie some catching practice. At the back, O'Connor didn't have too much to do. The closest Doyalson came in the first half was a shot that hit the upright. Chamo, Nige, Boz and Wallace calmly took care of things at the backline whilst Brad was involved in nearly everything in the defensive midfield spot. It was Neale however who got the ball rolling so to speak, sending a long through ball for Andy to run onto and slip past the keeper.

It was a narrow 1-0 lead going into the second half and today was not the day to bank on a McGarvey hatrick, nor even a single goal for that matter as he had an unlucky day finding the net. Not to fear, Chamo was here. Despite struggling with that achilles injury, he had no such issues with the upper limbs and skyrocketed one particular throw-in into the goalmouth where Tim Cohen broke his cherry heading the ball into the side netting for Wyoming's 2nd goal.

Also getting onto the scoresheet for the first time was Smithy who nailed the third and final goal courtesy of a nice throughball from OC who'd passed the gloves to Nige for the second half and despite the flu, was still at his frenetic best in the middle of the park. Smithy had a great chance earlier from Geoff who'd done so much work to get the pass through that we'll forever blame Smithy's saved shot if Geoff doesn't get an assist some other day. Fitzy and Andy put through some nice crosses but the same can't be said for Neale who from a corner kick dribbled the ball to the goalline and sent a cross that only someone 20 feet high could've connected with.

There were some scares in the final minutes with a lot of pressure at the back and conceding a few corner kicks. Boz in particular worked hard those last few minutes to keep a clean sheet. The final whistle blew just after Brad went down from impact to his knee, thankfully he was alright. A solid win for all expect McGarvey who said it felt like a loss. Haha, what a sook!
