SET PIECE CURSE

Back in Round 1, Wyong started their season with a 3-1 victory over the Tigers, the first of six consecutive victories for the Emus. Round 8. Wyong had finally stumbled the weekend before. Could they find their feet again? ... nope! Wyoming put in their best effort of the season (and still at this point in time) to come out 2-1 victors. Since that time, Wyong have not lost again. Could the boys from the 'ming shock them again ?? Sadly not. It was a highly contested battle on the field of Baker Park but unfortunately momentary defensive lapses during opposition set pieces: a free kick (offside actually) in the first half and a corner kick in the second, were the difference. The other results see Wyoming drop to 6th but fortuitously, the gap from 4th remains the same.

A NEW HOPE

Ross delayed the chance of celebrating his big "10" games milestone due to achieving a bigger number - "40" - during the week and was pulled away on celebratory duties. Happy Birthday mate. Also missing was Tony. We're hoping he will be unleashed again and returns for the last four games of the regular season. The team welcomed back Chris who missed the last couple of games due to a groin injury. Sadly, he retired early, having not quite healed yet. Meady and Gregg were also back, both rushing off from work to join us - Luca was quite taken by Gregg in his work threads. Meady tasked Andy with the honour of selecting the starting 11 but upon first view had to voice some stern objections. "Iniesta? Messi? Ronaldo? ... they're not available mate!" he yelled. Fine! Back to earth, he came up with draft #2 but again Meady had to challenge it when he saw a familiar name listed up front... Paul Ashton? Andy justified this by pointing towards the team's former striker loitering behind the grandstand. Could it be? Well yes, Meady's 46-year-old eyes did not deceive him, Paul was there alright ... but before we could get carried away - beyond that mere technicality that you can't borrow players from higher divisions (the A's were washed out today) - Paul was only there to spectate and support his old team (and hopefully future one someday) as he is enduring the after effects of another dislocated kneecap (the opposite one to 2014). Hope it heals soon mate and thanks for supporting us today.

The return of CHRIS, GREGG & MEADY

A HIT AND A MISS

So was it worth the drive and the limp to the sideline for Paul to watch his former team play today? He said he was entertained but not sure if that was a good thing. With Larry the referee adjudicating you're at least guaranteed some dancing and a few thousand "young man" quips throughout the 80 minutes but as far as goal action? ... well not today. Some excellent pressure from Brad and Stew at the front did present Andy with a couple of golden opportunities. One shot veered just left (should've switched it to Stew who was waiting in prime position to easily slot it in) and the next he overcompensated from that near miss by sending his subsequent shot wide of the other goal post. After nobody bought the old "new boots" excuse, Andy claimed he deliberately missed to show Paul he needs him back. Worth a shot, well not a very good shot obviously. Flanno at game's end told Andy to play AFL next year after a shot late in the second half sailed more closely to the 10-meter high light posts than those of the goal. Brad was at his usual best causing all sorts of trouble on the Wyong defenders - and a few hugs with the their keeper - with his 'never-say-die' attitude. Several times he took possession of the ball from sheer tenacity, making runs and crosses from the wing whilst also rushing back and helping defend. Stew was also a force upfront making himself a nuisance to Wyong and getting some nice passes away. Frank, who had to leave early in the second half for Jedi Master duties, pulled out a few nice tricks today and was unlucky not to be rewarded with an assist after one particularly excellent cross. Scott came forward from the backline late in the game to put a bit of spark in the attack. The closest he came was a free kick on target but blocked by the chest of the keeper.

ANDY's "AFL" shot at goals ... were there six lights on that pole earlier ??

INCIDENTS AND ACCIDENTS

Meady returned to the backline and seemed to be more comfortable in his favoured position and enjoying his football again - well other than that moment where he called the opposition No. 7 a "c*#l*f*#$%er" for a late hit. He wasn't the only one voicing obscenities towards Wyong's No. 7. He headbutted the back of Andy's head, took out Luca from behind and almost came to blows with Stevie G after the incident with Meady. No cards though. Wyong's giant no. 11 (or 8ft tall 200kg Godzilla as Paul put it) wasn't particularly favoured by Mark, who at half his size, had a running battle with him; and security guard Jason whom kept him at bay after an accidental incident with Aaron early in the second half. Aaron felt a crack at the back of his neck after dropping low to capture the ball and coming into contact with No.11 and Stevie G. Though sidelined for the remainder of the game, I'm happy to report that our custodian pulled up fine. Stevie G kindly donned the gloves in his place whilst Fordo nicked off with Aaron's cap.

An elbow here, a head-butt there and some good ol' fashion tripping by Wyong's unpunished No. 7

MARKY vs GOLIATH

AARON rushes back after a LUCA clearance attempt veers into the danger zone!

AARON stops an on-target header.

STEVE calmly juggles the ball to safety.

STEVE positions himself for another save.

BRAD ... the STALKER !!

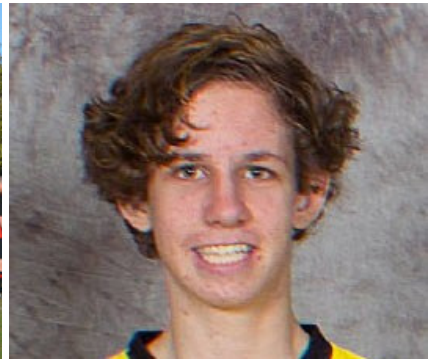

THE MEAD MACHINE

Meady showed the evidence he was at the back line by dirtying his erm, back line ... Fordo when not jumping in the air yelling "yee-har" (when sending bombing kicks up the sideline) was falling down enough to get on the pointscore ... and Andy was more on target in finding the dirt than his shots at goal.

TRIBUTE TO JACKSON WILLIAMS

The team paid tribute to 17-year-old Jackson Williams, a former player for Wyoming FC and a close friend to the George family, who died in a tragic car accident on Sunday the 17th of July. Our deepest sympathy to Jackson's family and friends.

WEEK 14 WRAP-UP

Wyoming have been given a lifeline of still making finals football with Woongarrah's purple patch continuing with a win over Kanwal. The win put the Wildcats into 5th to give themselves hope (although they have one less game than their counterparts). East Gosford broke their drought with a win. Wyong have edged a point behind Budgewoi who were held to a 2-2 draw by Killarney.

WEEK 15 PREVIEW

It's make or break for the Tigers this weekend. A win against Kanwal will put them one point behind them 4th spot. Woongarrah could equal the Rams on the points tally if they defeat East Gosford. Killarney take on Tuggerah. And the big one, Budgewoi vs Wyong. This could very well determine who claims the League Champions title. Wyong remain the only team Budgewoi have not yet defeated.
